Who exactly is deserving?

The Anderson Awards presented last Monday rewarded this year's best of presentations in all those deserving recognition in the valley's professional field. Now what are the criteria when the honor is granted with awards which extend praise to those deserving and refuse?

Throughout the years, there has always been the highest award applicable for those seeking recognition in their field: the Anderson Award. It has been given to many who have made significant contributions to the valley's professional field.

And the first criterion is that the award must be given to someone who has made a significant contribution to the valley's professional field. The award is given to those who have made a significant contribution to the valley's professional field.

There was enough maple syrup to satisfy every sweet tooth in town and the 1964 Ontario Maple Syrup Festival was bigger and better than ever.

Hundreds of people crowded into the outdoor city area of the main business district of Ottawa and lined up for pure maple syrup, hand-squeezed, cold brew, straight out a tree and honey made from golden and maple sugar candy.

After the crowd had their fill of goodies they could take a short tour of a local sugar bush or a few hours out of the city to the lake.

For those who chose to stay in town they could enjoy all sorts of the festival by participating in a lot of exciting events.

Transportation included everything from regular buses to chartered boats with newly painted hulls, in maple and honey coloured hues.

Ottawa's oldest maple syrup festival has grown steadily and this year there was an estimated crowd of 100,000.
